Our World of Wonders

We always hear that our high school years are the best years of our lives. Life is different for each individual. Many amazing changes happen and memories are made that we will carry throughout our lives. Now let's take a look inside the year most will never forget.

Entering in as freshmen we think that we have all the time in the world to do everything we ever dreamed of doing. Throughout the years we are welcomed into new experiences and are full of curiosity. Life is one big roller coaster ride, filled with ups and downs and sudden turns. We never know what to expect. As we reach our senior year we think, "where did all the time go?" We have been moving full speed ahead, the only thing on our minds is to get out of here and never look back.

Memories are made that we will cherish throughout the years. Before we know it, we will be telling people that the high school years are the best years of life, enjoy it while it's there. The four years flash by before we have a chance to stop and take a look inside this world we live in.

If you were not out playing in the game, most of you were one of the fans cheering in the crowd. Students who had participated in sports spent many hard hours working together to make themselves a winning team. For some students, playing in sports meant balancing their time out better, which left them with less free time. In most cases, all of their hard work payed off after a triumphant game.

Coaches played an important role in the success of the team. Their dedication and encouragement helped the athletes fulfill their goals. Although it was not easy, students who were involved in sports learned more about themselves, and by the end of the season, more friendships had deepened.

Cheerleading

Spectacular smiles, tantalizing stunts, and astonishing routines were merely a few of the countless talents these cheerleaders portrayed.

For the five senior captains; Theresa McCann, Kristin Shaw, Nicole Estey, Allison Rand and Tenille Rand the memories of cheerleading will last a lifetime. Having led these dynamic divas along the path to perfection, this year has proved to become a magical dream come true. Working hard thoughout the year, the varsity cheerleaders proved to be a great example not only for the upcoming squads that would follow them, but also for their spirit of the school as well.

New coach brings new style

New coach and style brought about new ideas along with new faces.

"It took us a while to get used to the new coaching style," said junior outside linebacker Derrick Tripp, "but as soon as we did, we began to mesh as a team, even though our record really didn't show it."

"One of the big things that coach stressed was dedication and caring about everyone on the team, and I believe that we stood by that rule," senior right cornerback and kick-returner Tommy Hamilton said. "One other thing is, even though we didn't win very many games, we never gave up in any of them."

Frank Ballard stepped into a different role this season and responded by throwing for over 1,000 yards and compiling 12 touchdowns.

"I think Frank stepped into a big pressure situation and responded as well as expected," Tripp said.

Overall this season got the players used to the system, so watch out next year fans.

Team leaders of the Railsplitter varsity football team:

Passing: Frank Ballard had 82 complete passes out of 161 attempts for 1,081 yards and 12 touchdowns

Rushing: Adam Judge rushed 100 times for 366 yards and 5 touchdowns

Receiving: Pete Sterbick caught 46 passes for 570 yards and 7 touchdowns

Tackles behind the line of scrimmage: Adam Judge tackled 14 peop;e

Tackles: Mike Boucher had 135 total tackles with 68 of them being solos

Interceptions: Tommy Hamilton picked off 3 passes to lead the team

The 97-98 season was full of ups and downs. For the sophomore team it was a rocky road through the year, finishing with a record of 2-7.

"It was a rough time, but it got us conditioned for the varsity team," sophomore Dylan Culbertson said. "The record didn't show how hard we actually worked."

The freshman team finished the season at 3-5.

"It was a fun year, we worked really hard, even though we had a losing record," freshman Cody Wade said.

"The team was always focused on the task at hand," freshman Justin Randleman said. "We never gave up."

Uniting to finish up the season

Varsity volleyball finished with a conference record of 5-2. After each game the team talked on how they could improve their game. They also talked on how to prepare for the up coming games.

"There was a better overall team this year," Senior Brianne Mundy said.

With Janet Malmberg as head coach, the team worked on conditioning. The players also worked on the skills to help enhance their game. This year the team worked together and really did not have any star players.

"All the players contributed equally," Mundy said.

Malmberg is working to improve the program by concentrating on the lower teams. She plans to have them incorporated in the program, so the team will be as successful as the years in the past.

Boys swimming as they stroke their way through the season.

Overall the team stroked their way through many victories. With a set back of a broken pool, the team coped very well. They worked together and gave it their all, although they were not at their home pool.

"Even with a few set backs, the team still had a good year and did great in districts." said senior Jason Nordell. Not only did the team do well in districts, Nordell made it to state. Because of a shoulder injury Nordell was held back. However, he still came through.

Other benefitial factors were the swimmers from Norwalk, who swim for Lincoln because Norwalk does not have a team. Norwalk swimmers swim for Lincoln helping with numbers for relay teams and individual meets.

Hopefully the pool will not hold the team back next year. With many young team members returning, the team should be as successful next year as this year .

Varsity Girls Basketball

Going to the state tournament was on the minds of the fourteen person roster of the varsity girls basketball team from day one.

That is what they accomplished. Beating Urbandale and Johnston in district play, the girls proved to the state and their school that they were for real and belonged at Vets playing in the tournament.

"Our team motto all year was: 'Together we win, divided we fall'," senior co-captain Alexis Quijano said of their great team unity.

They went through the season with only six tough losses and took down seventeen opponents, crushing many of them.

Even though, they lost in a hard fought game to Cedar Falls, many were proud of this group of young ladies and what they had gone through this season. Many said they weren't tall enough to make it, but they proved everyone wrong with a strong season.

"We had a great season," senior co-captain Hattie Bagbey said. " It was a lot of fun to help take our team down to state as a senior."

Freshman/ Sophomore girls basketball

The sophomore basketball team had a strong showing this season. They showed some good promising play for the future of the girls basketball program.

With two freshmen starters, the season was very optimistic and no one really knew who would step up and lead the team. But very quickly after starting the season, many key players contributed in many different ways.

"We worked very hard all year," sophomore Megan Angelino said. "But we really had some tough losses and really should have won some of them."

The freshmen on the sophmore team really stepped it up with it being their first year of high school basketball. "Comeback" was the word heard most by the team.

The freshmen girls team had a good year, with a lot of girls getting some experience in the high school level and adjusting to the new style of play. With the talent that could be uprising in these many freshmen, the future is bright for Lincoln High basketball.

Hoopin' it Up

They dribbled down the court and dodged defense players while their hearts pounded a hundred times a second.

When they got near the end of the court and found the perfect spot-the crowd had been cheering loud before-but when they had put their arms up to shoot, all was silent. SWISH!

What a sweet sound it was as the ball sailed through the net and scored a couple more points for the team. They looked up, and the fans in the stands screamed with joy.

"We had a great year this season. Everybody tried their hardest and I can't wait till next year," said freshman Kenny Muganza.

The freshman A team finshed 10-8, and had a lot of fun doing it. They practiced hard and got up early Saturday mornings to put the whoppin' on their opponents.

It's a rebuilding year for the sophomores, and unfortunately it wasn't the greatest year, yet they all gave their hearts to every game.

"We loved the games and worked hard in practice; I can't wait till next year, nor can the rest of the team," said sophomore Dylan Culbertson.

Their road to victory.

With a 12-6 record the team went down many roads to victory. To keep the team inspired throughout the year coaches and team members worked together. Practices consist of working out and running in order to make the weight at which they wrestle. Junior Bill Edwards said, "Keeping the intensity up is an important factor throughout the year."

Many of the team members took their road of victory all the way to state tournaments. The state qualifiers were freshmen Shane Voigt and Matt Vasey, junior Dusty Roland and senior Chris Kelly."Finishing good in the conference, the team overall did a great job." said Edwards.

For the up coming years the programwill stay strong. There are many younger wrestlers that will benefit the team in years to come.Which means there will be higher expectations.

Bowling

The bowling team consisted of seniors Michael Smith, Joe Friend, Tod Clark, and juniors Ryan Mott and Ryan Charter.

Last year they finished fourth in state, out of over thirty teams.

"This year didn't turn out as we expected," Smith said.

They failed to qualify for state, but with two returning members, next year looks hopeful.

Hockey

Brian Anderson is on a hockey team based here in Des Moines. The team is Des Moines Capitals.

Anderson played on the JV team, which went 19 - 2 - 5 last season. Play starts in early November and lasts until late February.

The games are played at the Metro Ice Sports Facility at 5100 Seventy-second Street in Urbandale.

Water Polo

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning, from 6 - 7 a.m. after swimming has finished, you can still hear the water splashing and the sound of voices. Those people are the water polo team. This is the first team assembled since the mid 80's. Competition is limited in the Des Moines area so they usually play against themselves.

The team was originally conceived by junior Anne Holzmueller.

"I have friends at other schools that have a team, so I asked coach J (Dan Johnson) if we could get one," Holzmueller said.

The team played a couple of games this year against Roosevelt. Hopefully, with a little determination, this sport can become a big one for Lincoln.

Girls and Boys Track

The track teams both got off to fast starts.

The boy's team had many high hopes. "We had many high expectations not all of which came true," said junior Tony Ekman. They had many returning letterwinneres to help lead the team. They finished first at the Hoover Invitational and second at the city meet, missing first by only three points.

Drake relay participants were seniors Adam Judge, Pete Sterbick, Reico Kelly, Mike Shade, and Dave Bruce andjunior Tony Ekman. State qualifers were Judge, Sterbick, Kelly, Shade, and Bruce. Judge placed first, for the second year in a row in the discus.

The girls team ran in ten meets theis year, two at Lincoln. They were led by seniors Hattie Bagbey in the 400 open and high jump, and Teresa Huber in the 100 open, and junior Laura Luymes in the 400 hurdles.

State qualifiers were Bagbey in the high jump and 400 and Muesburger in the shot put.

Boys Golf

Yet another season of boys golf has passed. All their clubs are stored away and there's a blanket of snow on the ground. For some, it was just another season that passed; for others, this season was their last.

Boys golf will lose over half of the varsity players to graduation. John Oberg said, " It was a great year, we all played well and had fun." Next year will be more of a rebuilding year but they should be in good shape.

The girls team looked forward to a successful season this year. Matches gave the players the opportunity to play and see golf courses all around Des Moines. Blank Park provided sufficient space for the golfers to practice both their long and short games.

Kelly Barth said, " The team has been driving towards excellence, but then again, that's par for the course.

Girls and boys tennis

Girls tennis worked hardthis season, working their way towards state tournaments.

Many freshman and newcomers added to the team are ranked as top players. Foreign exchange student Nikolett Szpelaki is ranked fourth. She has come all the way from Hungary and helped the team a great deal.

"The team has worked together, helping everyone improve and making the season great," said senior Teri Daggett.

With many underclassfolk coming out for next year's team, the season should be aas successful as in years past.

Senior Teri Daggett (right) winds up for her fierce backhand. Senior Annie Russo (far right) watches to determine who gets the next point.

Boys tennis worked hard to finish the season.

Individually becoming closer with their teammates, the team really began working as a whole. With the first of the season being on the tough side, the team worked even harder toward the end of the season to go out with a bang.

"This year was kind of a challenge, but overall it was a pretty good season," said senior Barrett Essman.

With some of the top players being seniors, the underclassmen will have their work cut out for them in the years to come. However, they will pull through with an exceptional season.

The boys soccer team started their season with two big overtime wins against Johnston and Ankeny. In all, the team had four overtime games, winning three and losing only one. Their one loss came in a shoothout against S.E. Polk. They finished the season with a 6-7 record overall, and 4-4 in conference, giving them fourth overall in conference.

"It was a building year for the team," said junior captain Joe Sithonnorath. "Our freshmen had to step up and contribute a lot and the juniors had to learn to be leaders and prepare for next season."

The team had another new coach, Alf Bilbao, but it didn't seem to have any negative effects, only positive. They were able to improve their record from the year before by three games.

"He (Bilbao) was easy to get along with and his style was easy to adjust to," said senior Nick Tursi.

Baseball

With a record of 26-8 the baseball team ended the season the number eight team in state.

Even though they lost their first game in districts to a tough Indianola team, things are looking bright for the future. With many returning letterwinners and many leaders from last year's team, they are looking to improve on their 26-8 record.

There were many honors and awards for the baseball team this year. The team won the Ankeny and Council Bluffs tournaments and ended the year second place in their conference.

There were many individual achievements. Junior Brent Delger received first team all-state, first team all-district, first team all-conference and was named the MVP of the Council Bluffs tournament. Sophomore Jason Cromer received second team all-district, and first team all-confernce. Nathan Cromer received second team all-district and second team all-conference. Players that received honorable mention all-conference were seniors Jon Howard, Gary Crees, and Casey Nolan and juniors Brandon Williams, John Oberg, and Todd Parson.

Sophomore brothers Nathan and Jason Cromer combined for a 12-1-4 recordpitching with a total of 122 strikeouts. Juniors Brent Delger and Brandon Williams batted .448 and .381. Sophomore Josh Kline batted .391.

Looking At... Academics

Every year new classes are formed along with new students coming and going. Take a look inside the many classes of talent, knowledge and physical activities.

As the years go by people become accustomed to hearing whether a person failed this class and aced the other. It is now common for the underclassmen to take their required classes early so they can get them out of the way. Although some people may think that all the seniors goof off their last year, it is not found to be true. Yes, they may have a shortened schedule and seem to have it easy , but the reality is they have it just as rough. They're cramming to get good grades and to be accepted into the college of their dreams.

It's no wonder that the time flashes by during our high school years, but seems to move like a snail during class time. While the clock slowly ticks by, let your mind wonder and take a look inside the classes that interest you.

Pride and Traditions of Excellence

We at Abraham Lincoln High School continue to use our past successes and rich traditions to build a bright future for our students. As always, it is with tremendous pleasure that I describe a few of the many highlights of our past school year.

Lincoln students once again demonstrated their talents through both curricular and extra curricular learning activities. Several examples of students high level of achievment are shown throughout this year's Railsplitter.

Excellent academic performances by many of our over 2,000 students served as a focal point of pride for our southside high school during 1997-98. This was evident by the 209 students who earned academic letters, the 80 students invited to participate in the National Honor Society, the 35 students selected as National Youth Leadership recipients, the four students who were recognized by the National Merit Scholarship program and the one student, of only two Iowa students, to be named an AP Scholar.

Activity programs at Lincoln continue to provide students an opportunity to display their various talents. The band, orchestra, and show choirs all received "1" ratings in State competition. Debate, drama, journalism, Ambassadors, and peer helpers also performed at high levels.

In addition, students participated in 19 different sports during this past year. Our softball team was once again conference champions and our baseball team finished second. The football team welcomed a new coach, Larry Sterbick, and highlighted their season by defeating North High School in our Homecoming game. An enthusiastic student body and tremendous booster club support continues to set the tone for even greater success by Lincoln's athletic teams.

As principal of this outstanding high school, I want to congratulate the senior class for their personal accomplishments and contributions to Lincoln High School. To our underclassmen, I want to remind you of the high expectations that have been established over the 74 year history of our school. Without question, Lincoln High School students are the greatest.

Second hour will be remembered as a time when these business professionals in training acquired the skills needed to excel in the business world. They used the skills taught in second hour in an after school job with a local business. While getting great experience, they were able to get paid for a job that didn't require them to mop up floors or flip burgers. Students got early release so they worked only a few hours after school. This is a great advantage because students don't have to close up at midnight and nap in school the next day.

They went to state competition where they were literally tied together to learn about teamwork.

Business Professionals of America is also oriented towards community service. They held a successful clothing drive to help the needy. Teachers and students brought in dresses, pants, and shirts.

Creativity
Strut your stuff

The arts and music area of the school, is a place where dreamers can find that their dreams can actually come true. You just have to put forth a little bit of effort.

The music department offers a wide variety of classes to expand your "musical" skills. Included are: Infinity, Omega, Alpha, Concert Choir, Chamber Chorale, and Varsity Choir. The Arts Department also offers a wide variety of classes for those who like to "expand their horizons." Classes included are: Art 1, 6 semesters of Draw and Paint, 6 semesters of Crafts, and advanced classes in drawing, painting, and crafts.

Consumer Sciences and Technology

Both Consumer Sciences and Technology Education play an important role in preparing students for life. Many of the family and consumer science classes discuss relationships and skills needed for adult living. Parenting, child development, personal development, sewing and food and nutrirtion classes are offered.

"Students learn skills for a better life in the future," Betty Edwards, family and consumer science teacher, said.

In technology classes the focus is on wood working, metals, and cars. "The best advice I can give, is stay away from the table saw," junior Mike Krohn said. "Actually, class is a lot of fun."

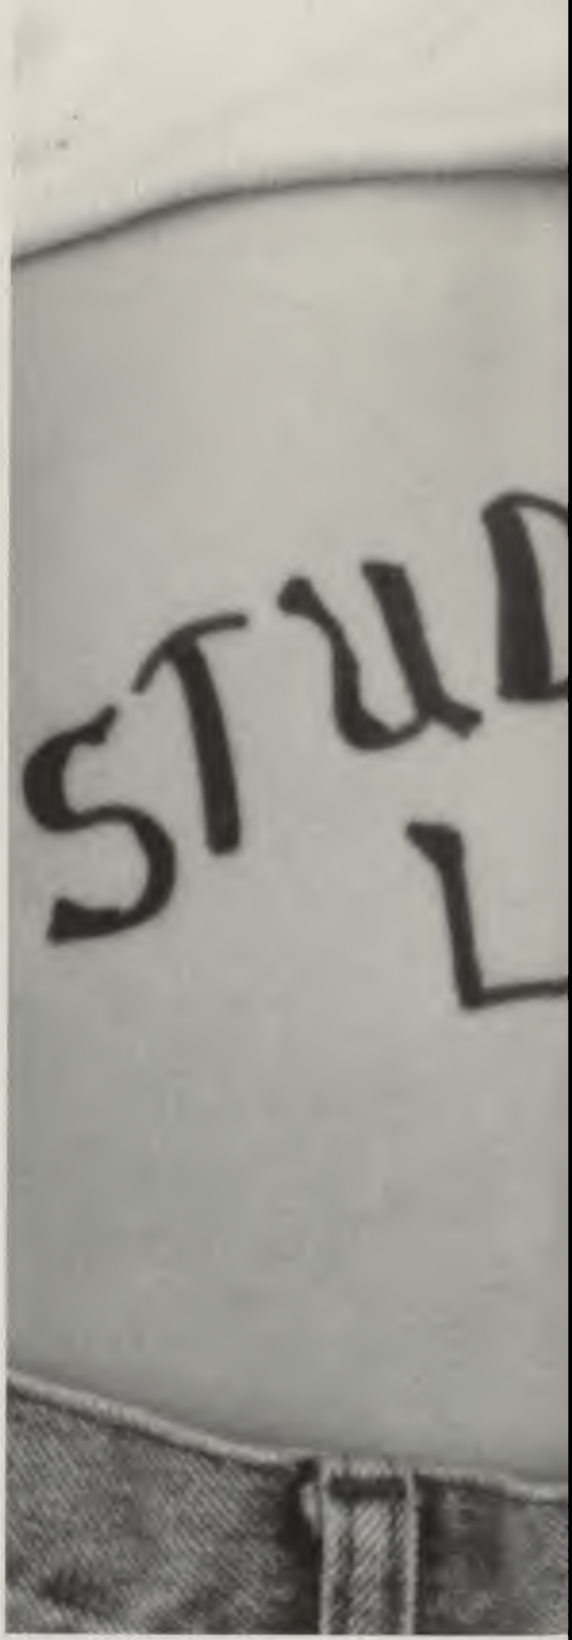
Generation X



We are the last of what society has labeled "Generation X." This label came about from the book, by Douglas Coupland, entitled Generation X.

This book tells the story of three young people in this world with no ambition or motivation. As the last part of this group, we are going to prove society wrong.

Take a look at the activites and after school lives of our student body, and see for yourself if we are "the generation lost."

But Seriously... IV

With a cast of twenty-six people, freshman through seniors, But Seriously...IV is considered to be one of the most unique plays at Lincoln by senior Trish Bowers.

Bowers said, "It's a student written play, so it shows a little more creativity from the cast members."

Students rehearsed for six weeks after auditioning by creating improvizational scenes. At the end of four weeks each cast member voted on the scenes they like best. There were close to thirty scenes that made it to the final show.

Bowers said, "It kind of reminds me of 'Saturday Night Live' but with amatuer actors. It gives people who would not try drama normally a chance to see what it's all about."

Looking at... Debate

Whether you take Forensics class to learn the five styles of argument (Lincoln Douglas, Policy, Solo/ Performance, Congress, and Mock Trial Debate) or you go farther to exercise those styles in Debate, both are "loads of fun," said senior Travis McGivern.

Debate is the biggie. First you have a team, and your team picks a form of argument (mentioned above) and a topic that they are the best at. Then they head off to numerous competitions putting to use what they have learned.

Aside from all this, being a member of the team actually teaches you something.

"I think Debate is full of logical argument; it helps you to back up what you say, teaches you new vocabulary and forces you to look at things from both points of view. The team requires a lot of hard work, self-motivation, and commitment," McGivern said.

Meeting on Thursday mornings and sometimes Thursday after school, Dorian Art travels to places like the Art Center, and coffee houses "to discuss art work and hopefully become better artists. We compare their (local artists) style with ours to get fresh ideas," Skinner said.

The class is about going beyond art, but don't worry you don't have to be Pablo Picasso or Claude Monet to join.

"Basically if you are in art class or have an interest in art you can join," Skinner said.

It may look like all fun and games, but not everything is what it appears. Each semester there are many deadlines due, which include hours and hours of work. One day out of each semester groups of Yearbook students have the opportunity to sell as many ads as possible to help raise money for the Yearbook. "Selling ads seems really easy, but when it comes down to it, it's frustrating. People that don't buy, give you every possible excuse there is, it's funny, "Amanda Thomas said.

Titles need to be perfect and copy needs to be written. Yearbook staff spends much of the year collecting quotes, and getting ideas from fellow classmates. Newspaper

This year the Railsplitter staff made a lot of changes to the Railsplitter. They made a new Beats page which described all clubs and activites available to students. They also made a new Reviews page which gave opinions about things like movies, theater productions, and restaurants.

The staff did many surveys about topics like drinking and driving, love, and religion. They produced ten issues of the paper.

Brent Delger said, "This year we tried to make more pages in the newspaper. We interviewed more thoroughly and tried to make our paper more accurate."

The Railsplitter began the year with 22 staff members. In January, 11 more were added, making a total of 33 members.

Ambassadors

"Making a difference"

"I enjoy Ambassadors because I get to volunteer my time to people in need." Senior Sara Sullivan

About 75 students were selected to be Lincoln High School Ambassadors this year. Ambassadors are outstanding students who help out the community and volunteer during class time. They also go to elementary schools to work with little kids and assist teachers.

On their spare time, they volunteer at the festival of trees and the festival of lights, visit nursing homes, make Thanksgiving baskets, run can food drives, and work at elementary school fun nights.

In order to become an Ambassador, teachers must select you and you must fill out an application with questions about yourself and what you would like to do to help make our community a better place.

There are different positions in the R.O.T.C. program that are similiar to the army, they are: Color Guards, Drill Team, Raiders, Rifle Team, and Community Service.

The Color Guards perform at Homecoming and Graduation. The Drill Team performs at out of state marching competitions. The Raiders go to Camp Dodge to shoot in the range. The Community Service rakes yards and volunteers to help out with certain activities.

"I like the people, activities and skills we learn in the program, but North isn't real close to Lincoln and it takes a lot of gas," Daughenbaugh said. "The goals I've already accomplished include becoming a better citizen and getting a position in R.O.T.C. The goals I have yet to accomplish are to gain rank and receive a leadership position."

The students hope to have an R.O.T.C. program at Lincoln soon.

"Committee select is a great way for students and faculty to find out how to solve many problems." Senior Aimee Sears

Committee Select

Committee Select is a group of students and faculty that meet monthly to discuss issues that concern students. They make suggestions to use vandalism funds for cold water fountains and help other organizations. The principal chooses involved students that know issues and concerns of other students. They meet over lunch for and hour to discuss these topics. Committee Select consists of freshmen through seniors.

Key Club

Key Club formed because a group of students wanted to be involved in special activities.

Activities include decorating the football field for homecoming, the gym for the Sweetheart Dance, and passing out candy to kids at different day cares for Halloween.

One of their biggest projects is helping out Smouse during Thanksgiving and Special Olympics. They also have a service project at the end of the year to provide the school with something new.

Educational Talent Search

Educational Talent Search is formed by a group of students that want to prepare for college.

"It is a program to help you learn about colleges and the programs that you can take," said junior Julie Derscheid.

It makes sure that you have the classes needed to graduate and helps you pick classes based on what you want your major to be in college.

Looking at... Infinity

Infinity had an eventful year. With a new choreographer, and a new style of contest set, they had to work hard together.

Choir member Charlie Enos said, "Contest is exciting. We bond with each other so much on overnight trips. Stepping on stage is like stepping onto a field at a big football game. The main difference is, rather than being a team, we're a more of a family."

The competitions lasted from January through March. Rather than choosing several songs to put together for the contest set, choir director Carroll Bennink chose to present a medley from the Broadway musical "Rent." Bennink brought in choreographer Jennifer Channon to help with movement.

Enos said, " 'Rent' makes it a little more exciting because all of the songs relate to each other. We didn't have to make certain songs fit in with our theme."

Homecoming Game
"Lincoln 28 vs. North 27"

Homecoming week is one of Lincoln's biggest traditions, with students getting up every morning and looking forward to another fun day of something new. Monday morning, students came to school dressed as their parents would have when they were teenagers for Blast from the Past Day. Tuesday morning, half the school had an identical twin when people dressed alike for Twin Day. Wednesday, students came to school looking like princess Diana, Elvis, and Dorothy from the Wizard of Oz for Living Impaired Day. Students Thursday were dressed up looking very sophisticated in their nice little dresses and ties for Dress Up Day, and Friday everyone in the school went crazy; students painted their faces and hair maroon and gold, some even painted their arms and legs for Spirit Day. That afternoon, students cheered on the football team at the pep assembly to win the game that evening. Students threw toilet paper, sang the fight song, took a look at the homecoming floats and watched the Railettes and cheerleaders perform in football jerseys. Friday night everyone headed for Hutchens field for the oh-so-famous Homecoming game-the victory score was Lincoln over North, 28-27. The day to end Homecoming week was Saturday, the day of the dance. Steve Leib and Kate Fletcher were crowned the Homecoming King and Queen.

Prom, After Prom, Senior Banquet

Unforgettable In Every Way

Senior prom was held April 25 at the Hotel Fort DesMoines. This year's theme was Unforgettable In Every Way.

The After Prom party was held at school, and lasted from 10:30 p.m.-5 a.m.. Activities included a casino, bungee run, sumo wrestling, bouncy boxing, a karoake bar, hypnotist, and comedian.

"This was the best after prom yet", said Janeen Quijano. "There was tons of food, neat decorations, and a great turnout.".

Senior banquet was April 23 at the downtown Holiday Inn, where seniors spoke of their years at Lincoln.

Underclass

Juniors
This is it, don't get scared now, you're gonna make it through.
Stand side by side, graduation is waiting for you.
It's gonna be difficult so try your best,
With Lincoln High pride, you'll out do the rest!

Sophomores
Not too far in, but too far to turn back,
Some started off slowly, but got back on track.
You have two years to go and it's going to be rough,
But hang in there sophomores...Railsplitters are tough!

Freshmen
You're first year's complete, you now lose the "Freshmen" name,
With only three years left, it won't be quite the same.
Older and wiser, you're experienced now,
With this good start you're sure to make it some way, some how.

Timm Pilcher

Starting with a little and ending with a lot more, it's safe to say Timm Pilcher turned the publications organization around one hundred eighty degrees. In three years, Pilcher increased the yearbook class enrollment by 91 students. Not only was he responsible for the turn around of the yearbook class, but he also made changes like night and day in newspaper and Journalism 1.

In the past three years, Pilcher has assisted the publications staffs' in bringing home a half dozen awards, which came from various high school journalism associations throughout the nation.

Sad but true, Pilcher will be packing up his belongings and heading to Iowa City, accompanied by wife Katie and son Maxwell. There he will resume teaching yearbook, newspaper, and journalism classes!

We would like to thank Mr. Pilcher for everything he's done! We'll miss him!!

Thanks Again!!

Chad Angelino

We will be forever grateful that we were able to assist in the miracle of creating you, our first born. You've made our job of parenting a gift that has filled our hearts with insurmountable joy. You already possess the qualities you need to succeed in life: kindness, compassion, faith, perseverance, confidence and character. It is now time to spread your wings and soar. You know we will always standby you, believe in you, and most of all, love you. Don't ever lose that smile! It melts hearts.

Chad Angelino

We've been through a lot together, big brother. Soon I'll be without you, but please remember whatever happens in your life, I will always be here for you. You're the only brother I have, and I never want us to lose touch. You're the best friend I could ever ask for, and I love you with all my heart. Good luck and work hard big bro.

Last Look...

Index

Another year has come to an end and another class has graduated after thirteen long years of hard work and dedication.

The year started with a new look and new attitudes, with seniors wanting to finish their last year, juniors becoming upper classmen, sophomores no longer freshmen, and freshmen being dazed and confused.

The index section is compiled of the names of every student that attended Lincoln this year and which pages they're pictured on.

To all the seniors: take a long last look at all your yearbooks because they contain memories that will last a life time. Good luck out there in success and life in the real world.

The 1998 Railsplitter yearbook Take A Look Inside was produced by Yearbook I and II classes, periods two and six. The classes used Macintosh Plus, SE's, Classics, LCII's, and Power Macs 6100/66 and 5300, running Microsoft Word 4.0 and 5.1, Page Maker 4.2 and 6.5, and utilizing both the Herff-Jones Page Master 800 template and Quick Panel Plus layout systems.

The book was printed by the Herff-Jones Company at their Shawnee Mission, Kansas, plant in cooperation with representative Paul Havnen, Havnen Associates, and in house representative Sally Jones.

The book was sold for $27.50 at pre-registration and $32.50 after January 1. Fifteen hundred copies were printed and thirteen hundred and fifty pre-sold.

The cover is four color lithograph, designed by Sean and Jon Eike and rendered by Kathy Pundt of Herff-Jones.

Fonts used were Helvetica, Times, and Zaph Chancery, utilizing bold, Italics, etc. Copy was in 10pt., Times, justified. Captions were 8pt., Helvetica, bold, and justified. All color in the book is from the Herff-Jones catalogue.

Special thanks to advisor, Timm Pilcher, for all the time, effort, and dedication put into the journalism classes.
